INTRODUCTION

In presenting their 1924 edition of the Sioux City Directory to its many patrons the publishers are confident that they have produced a work that is complete and comprehensive and that will be commended by patrons and the general public as meeting their needs and requirements for a modern City Directory.

The Directory is recognized as a great social and business necessity and a valuable asset to a community. It is not only a book of names, addresses and occupations, it is an encyclopedia of accurate data concerning the people of a community and their various activities. It is the only accurate history of what the community was yesterday. It presents it in the concrete today and is a reliable index of what it may be tomorrow. Its pages point unerringly to the progress and development of the industrial life of the community.

The Directory is compiled in several essential departments as follows:

THE MISCELLANEOUS DEPARTMENT, pages 11 to 27 contains information concerning state, county and city officials, buildings, blocks and halls, churches, cemeteries, clubs, homes and hospitals, libraries, fraternal and benevolent societies, and miscellaneous organizations.

THE BUYERS' GUIDE occupies pages 47 to 158. This section of the Directory, printed on tinted paper, includes numerous advertisements of the leading manufacturing, business and professional interests of Sioux City. They have been carefully grouped by departments and are indexed under classified headings and otherwise in various parts of the Directory. A casual perusal of these advertisements will picture many interesting phases of the city's activities. They are not display advertisements, primarily, however, but rather are reference advertising at its best. The purpose of a Directory is to direct. In a bustling, commercial and manufacturing city like Sioux City the need for this kind of information readily at hand is very great, and the general appreciation of this need is evidenced by the liberal patronage the City Directory enjoys in many and varied lines of trade.

THE ALPHABETICAL LIST OF NAMES of citizens, business concerns and corporations in Sioux City is embraced in pages 159 to 711.

THE STREET AND AVENUE GUIDE covers pages 712 to 827; the streets and avenues are compiled in alphabetical order, the numbers on each street and avenue being arranged in numerical order, the names of the householders and business concerns are placed opposite the appropriate numbers.

THE CLASSIFIED BUSINESS DIRECTORY is included in pages 828 to 918, and shows the various manufacturing, mercantile and professional occupations compiled under headings appropriate to the class of business pursued. This department will be appreciated as a special trade directory. The directory is the common intermediary between the buyer and the seller.

POPULATION

There are 38,476 individual names in the Directory indicating a population in the territory covered of 86,571 which is an increase of 2,346 over the estimate of last year. This result is arrived at by multiplying the number of names by 2¼ to allow for the number of women and children whose names are not in the Directory. In canvassing for the names and information the geographical confines of the city were not arbitrarily observed. Small sections of territory immediately adjacent, which are parts of the city as far as business and social life are concerned, were included.

SIOUX CITY

"At the Frontier of the World's Greatest Market."

A Paved Highway Into Sioux City

OVED
RARY

Sioux City is the metropolis of the northwest where the farmer, the rancher and the captain of industry join hands to make a market for the world's greatest agricultural region. The city has a population of 86,000, over 96 per cent of whom are white. The foreign element, composed for the most part of Scandinavians and British subjects, form a stable class of citizens—hard working and thrifty. Perhaps no other city the size of Sioux City has so few undesirables. The industrial section of the city lies along the north shore of the Missouri river and extends northward along the valleys of the Floyd river and Perry creek. The business section is at the base of this U-shaped valley. Spreading out in fan formation to the north, east and west is the beautiful residence part of the city, divided into three major sections by these valleys. The average elevation of Sioux City above sea level is 1,158 feet. The mean annual temperature over a period of 30 years is 48 degrees. Winters are cold and snappy, but not wet and slushy as it is a little farther south. The summers get hot, but the nights usually bring cool breezes, making sleep a pleasure. Sioux City is large enough to enjoy all the advantages of a big city and yet small enough to enjoy the congenial community spirit.

Sioux City leads Iowa in manufacturing, jobbing, packing and as a grain market, a live stock market and as a butter center. The natural location of the city coupled with the progressiveness and foresight of Sioux City business men accounts for the marvelous growth of the city and the rapid expansion of trading radius. Sioux City has little competition in western Iowa, southern South Dakota and northern Nebraska from the trading standpoint.

In the middle of the last century, the spot on which Sioux City now stands was a prairie. The country for hundreds of miles around on the north, south, east and west, lay in its primeval state with no signs of civilization. The red man was unmolested in his rich hunting grounds. The wild buffalo roamed at will over the beautiful plateaus and valleys. Few realized then that this spot at the junction of the Sioux and the Missouri would some day be the site of one of the most progressive industrial centers of the northwest.

In 1854 the first permanent settlement was made by Dr. J. K. Cook, a surveyor in the employment of the government. He realized the natural advantages afforded for a city by the location and with his followers located claims and began laying out a city. Sioux City can be said to be a city that was founded not on chance or by luck but because of its location. From the founding of the city to the present time has been a period of rapid growth and expansion. Each year adds a little more to the progress of this western city. With the start of 1855, two log cabins constituted the town. A tavern, a real estate office, grocery store and the United States land office appeared before the end of the year. It soon became an important trading center for the Indians who were the only inhabitants.

The banking business opened in Sioux City in 1856 when Weare & Allison, with a dry goods box for a counter and a tin box for a safe, opened their banking house with a capital of $1,000. Contrast this with the 20 banks and trust companies here now with capitalizations of over four million and resources of nearly 50 million. The progressiveness of the banks and bankers have played no small part in the building of the industries and business institutions of the city. Although the city ranks 98th in population it stays with the first 50 in business transactions.

For a few years after the founding of the city, it was contented to be a retail center but soon the more progressive men saw that Sioux City was destined to be more than a retail center and set about making it a manufacturing and jobbing center which it is today. The year 1867 marks the beginning of manufacturing. The city has now outgrown many cities that at that time were considered manufacturing centers of great possibilities. The first manufacturing plant was a flour mill run by water power. A few barrels a day was then considered a tremendous output, but today the mills have a capacity of over 2,000 barrels a day. In addition there are several cereal manufacturing plants. The next 10 years will see Sioux City a cereal manufacturing center of the west.

The greatest industry of today had its beginning in 1871 as the result of an accident. A steamboat coming up the river sprang a leak and sank just opposite the city. The boat was filled with wheat which was sold for salvage at a very low price. James E. Booge bought this wheat which was good only for feeding hogs. He purchased enough hogs to consume the wheat and found a large supply of porkers on his hands with no ready market. In order to realize a profit he conceived the idea of butchering the hogs and selling the dressed meat. Thus was started an industry which now means the livelihood of nearly a third of the population of the city. Sioux City ranks sixth in the country as a live stock and packing center

The city is a logical center for a live stock market. It is in the center of the greatest grain producing section of America and at the gateway to the vast grazing plains of the west. The production of pure breds had been urged by the stockmen of the local market until today Sioux City is one of the world's largest pure bred live stock markets.

The greatest development of the city has come within the last 20 years. From a population of 33,000 at that time it has grown to over 86,000 at the present time and is still going. Bank clearings jumped from 60 million to nearly one-half billion and trade increased in like proportions. Hundreds of jobbing houses have sprung up and taken their places in the industrial life of the city.

The history of Sioux City as a grain market comes within this last score of years. The last five years would in reality catch the high points of the grain business. It was within these last few years that the government through the Interstate Commerce Commission recognized that it was a grain center and granted rates that made it possible to send grain here and realize as much for it as to send it to Chicago. Following this the giant reinforced concrete elevators were built and grain began to pour in.

Missouri River Bridge at Sioux City

The story of Sioux City as a jobbing center reads as an Arabian Night's story. Situated as it is on the convex side of the Missouri river, on its first great bend north of Kansas City, the waters of this territory seemed to flow always toward the city. In a like manner business, traffic and commerce flowed to Sioux City. No other city in the United States has so large a trade territory without a single rival as a jobbing center. Practically all lines of commodities are handled here. The great size of the territory has been the cause of some unusually large wholesale houses locating here, all of which have met success.

One of the foremost industries of today in this city is the dairy product business. With the largest creamery in the world here and with two others of huge proportions the city turned out 28 million pounds of butter in 1922, as well as millions of gallons of ice cream. This goes to all parts of the country and carries the name of Sioux City into thousands of homes. The result of these plants has been the stimulation of dairying in Iowa, South Dakota and Nebraska.

The automobile industry is in its infancy in the United States, but Sioux City has its share. In addition to jobbing practically every standard car, numerous articles such as tools, tires, radiators, bodies and other accessories are manufactured and distributed to the world from here.

River Road to Stone Park

THE SIOUX CITY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Sioux City Chamber of Commerce is a live organization which has had much to do with the progress of the city and is responsible for many of its more modern tendencies. It is a representative of the commercial, professional and manufacturing interests of the city and had its inception in a desire to promote their growth in home building, in manufacturing industries, in civic improvement and in commercial importance.

MUNICIPAL PUBLICITY

Advertising Sioux City

An important function of the Directory is to set forth the characteristics and advantages of the city as a place of residence, as a business location, as an industrial site and as an educational center. The Directory acts as a mirror, reflecting all that is noteworthy in the city in the above respects. In order to spread this information regarding the city broadcast over the country the publishers place copies of this issue of the Directory in Directory Libraries which are maintained in all the larger cities of the country, where they are readily available for reference use by the public. There they serve a sperpetual advertisements of Sioux City, for businss men the country over realize that the City Directory represents the community as it really is.

The publishers take this opportunity of thanking the citizens for valuable assistance rendered in the way of furnishing information concerning themselves for this Directory, and also the public-spirited and progressive business and professional men for support given in the way of patronage.

RALPH LANE POLK

Founder of R. L. Polk & Co.

Born September 12th, 1849. Died August 21st, 1923

(Biographical sketch follows)

Ralph Lane Polk

(From the Detroit News)

Ralph Lane Polk, whose picture appears on the preceding page and whose name was familiar to Detroiters as the publisher of the city directory, but who was equally well known for similar endeavors by residents of every large city in the United States and Canada, died Tuesday in St. Paul, Minn., of pneumonia. He had been stricken while taking a business trip to the northwest by boat, having left here only a few days ago.

Monday, the condition of the veteran publisher, who was within a few days of his seventy-fourth birthday, became alarming and his son, R. L. Polk, Jr., who is general manager of the business founded by his father, was summoned to the bedside, but arrived too late. Mrs. Polk, Sr., and a granddaughter, Miss Dorothy Kemp, were with husband and grandfather when the end came.

Mr. Polk had just completed the last consolidation of his publishing business, which will be his monument, by obtaining the directory of the city of Chicago, and thus putting the final touch to the vast business which had such modest beginnings.

A Vast Business

Today his company, in addition to the directories of practically every large American and Canadian city of any importance, publishes state gazetteers and directories of industries and professions —in all, around 500.

He was born in Bellefontaine, O., September 12th, 1849, the son of the Rev. David and Mary Charlotte (Warner) Polk, and was educated in the common schools at Trenton, N. J., and at the Pennington, N. J., Seminary.

His first job was on a farm, and when the Civil War was in its second year he was selling newspapers in Trenton. In succession, he was clerk in a grocery store, manager of an ice business in Trenton, and at the age of 15 enlisted as a musician in Co. G, 40th New York Volunteers, and remained in service eight months. He was mustered out at Hall's Hill, Va., in August, 1865.

Learned Accuracy

Four years later he went to Indianapolis and made his first start in the directory business. learning the lessons for accuracy, patience and detail, which were to lead to his later success.

In 1870 he came to Detroit and here he made his home ever since, organizing the firm of R. L. Polk & Co., directory publishers. In 1877 he married Amelia Frances Hopkins, the family home being for the last several years at 223 Ferry avenue east.

The street directory section, now a feature of all standard directories, was introduced to this country by Mr. Polk. and Detroit was the first city to have that facility. Later he added cities such as New York, Baltimore, Washington, Pittsburgh, Wilmington, Jersey City, Milwaukee, Toledo, Seattle, Los Angeles, Salt Lake City, Duluth, Houston, Sacramento, Jacksonville and scores upon scores of others to his list. His employees, more than 4,000, are scattered from Hawaii to Alaska.

Original Features

In 1886 he published his first national list of architects and builders. Since then there have been regular issues of directories of physicians, banks, dentists, real estate men and others.

Mr. Polk's hobby was his business, and his business was his hobby. To the eve of his death he took an active interest in it.

A Friend's Tribute

What Mr. James E. Scripps, publisher of the Detroit News, thought of Mr. Polk is shown in a faded yellow clipping from The Evening News, published in August, 1878, and treasured dearly by Mrs. Polk in a scrap book which she has personally gathered over the years. The article written by Mr. Scripps may well be reproduced here:

"About eight years ago, a gentlemanly but rather diffident young man, an entire stranger in Detroit, entered a leading printing office in this city with the manuscript of a book he wished to have printed. He had put a great deal of work upon it, but had no money wherewith to pay for the printing. He wanted credit till the book could be delivered to subscribers.

"His manner pleased the manager of the office, and though the job was comparatively a large one, and a few months would elapse before anything would be realized on it, such was the confidence awakened that the job was undertaken. The book was a business directory of the towns on the Detroit & Milwaukee Railway, and the enterprising young publisher was Mr. Ralph L. Polk. The incident of his getting credit here at the critical point in his career without doubt had its influence in inducing him to make Detroit his headquarters. A larger work was undertaken in a gazetteer and business director of the whole state. It was ably prepared, proved popular, and was the foundation stone of an immense business

"Today the firm of R. L. Polk & Co. are the publishers of regular biennial state gazetteers in nine different state, including Michigan, Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Kentucky, West Virginia. The Illinois work, published recently, made 1,716 large octavo pages and is probably the most extensive work of the kind ever printed in the United States. The Kansas Gazetteer for 1878 is just published, and the Minnesota book is now in press. The fourth issue of the Michigan Gazetteer will be begun this fall. Besides these large enterprises the same firm publishes regular city directories for the following cities: Indianpolis, Toledo, Grand Rapids, Saginaw, East Saginaw, Bay City, Jackson, Port Huron, Fort Wayne, Ind., and London, Ont., and under a different firm name (J. W. Weeks & Co.), the partners being the same, they also publish the Detroit City Directory, than which no city in the country can boost a better. The larger share of the printing of all these various publications is done in Detroit and contributes many thousands of dollars a year to the business of our job offices. Both for this reason and for the intrinsically high business character, the firm merit the utmost confidence and most liberal patronage of the citizens of Detroit."

Headed Publishers

Mr. Polk was honored later by being elected president of the Association of the American Directory Publishers for three years.

In politics he was a Republican, while his religious affiliations were with the Presbyterian Church. He was a member of the Detroit Post, G. A. R., and the Detroit Club. He was also a prominent Mason, was a member of Corinthian Lodge No. 24, F. & A. M., had taken the 32nd degree in Masonry, and was a member of the Old Guard of the Detroit Commandery, Knights Templar.

His family consists of his widow; a daughter, Mrs. Francis P. Kemp; a son, Ralph L., Jr., and three grandchildren, Amy and Dorothy Kemp, and Ralph Lane Polk, III.

We handle the D. L. & W. SCRANTON HARD COAL, the best hard coal mined. We are sole agents for the MILWAUKEE SOLVAY COKE, 'The Fuel Without a Fault." We also handle POCAHONTAS BRIQUETS, Lump, Egg and Mine Run. Our leaders in soft coal are: MILLER'S CREEK KENTUCKY, PINNACLE LUMP, SOUTHERN GEM. Our Steam Coal includes the best grades from Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Iowa and Wyoming, both washed and unwashed.

The best coal for you is the coal that stands the most rigid efficiency test. Uncle Sam decided on Pocahontas Lump for the Navy—he wanted the best.

The DIRECTORY IS THE COMMON INTERMEDIARY BETWEEN BUYER and SELLER

The City

Directory

places the city on the map and is the only representative to the world beyond its own gates.

It's the city's catalogue of business and represents the city, its citizens and institutions in every corner of these United States.

It is the logical means of publicity in advertising the city, its manufacturing industries, its advantages and its resources

The men who direct the affairs of progressive and up-to-date business institutions recognize the fact that the City Directory tells the story of the city's life and keeps it before the public as no other publication does or can.

Its classified business section furnishes a list of all trades, professions and pursuits, constituting a special trade directory or buyers guide and is the best advertising medium on earth.

PUBLIC SERVICE

Should consist of the most competent assistants and methods in order to render a complete service to the public. And our years of experience qualifies us in that capacity, and it is our policy to give personal attention to the most minute detail and arrangements and caring for our patrons. We maintain "Chapel," for either private or public funeral services, and also place at your disposal night and day "Ambulance Service."

The Test of Time

The same high character of service and dependability that were the ideals of the pioneer founders of the Westcott Undertaking Co., over 40 years ago are the ideals of the firm today.

The knowledge that this pioneer firm can be fully entrusted with full direction, and that every detail will be accorded proper care, is a lasting comfort to the families of Sioux City and vicinity.

Graceland Park Cemetery

MAUSOLEUM

Perpetual Care

The Graceland Park Mausoleum is one of the finest in America. A marble structure of pure Greek architecture, surmounting a gently rising knoll, Graceland Park Mausoleum provides a final resting place of perfect peace, tranquility and loving care.

Graceland Park Cemetery

OFFICE 608-609 F. L. & T. BUILDING

Graceland Park Cemetery

SIOUX CITY, IOWA

Perpetual Care

Where the human body loved and cherished while living is to have its last long sleep, is a matter for the most careful consideration. You may thoughtlessly say that it is a matter of indifference to you where your own body is laid when you die, but it is not a matter of indifference to those you leave behind you. Their love and affection gathers about your resting place—the grave—the cemetery. You ought not to ignore —you cannot ignore—their rights and feelings.

A Cemetery lot is almost the only thing which ought to be purchased before it is needed. The state of feeling that fills the mind when death enters the home excludes the exercise of the national, careful judgment necessary in the business of selecting a burial plot. Attend to this matter when you can exercise your best thought is the counsel of wisdom.

Choose a cemetery for the care the overseers lavish on it. Choose it for its dignified beauty and for the absolute certainty that no matter what becomes of you that where your loved ones are sleeping will always be cared for. Such a cemetery is Graceland Park Cemetery.

All our lots are sold on one, two, three, four and five years' time without interest. Offices 608-609 Farmers Loan & Trust Building, Sioux City, Iowa.

Street and Avenue Directory

In the following list the streets are arranged in alphabetical order. The number of each building on the street is given in numerical order and opposite the number is placed the name of the occupant householder. In the business blocks containing offices the occupant of each room is shown by numbers where practicable. The profession, business, etc., of individuals and firms are only given at their respective places of business; to find the occupation of householders, refer to Alphabetical List of Names. The exact location of any street can be found by referring to Street and Avenue Guide in Miscellaneous Information in front of this book.

Hey, DADDY, your first duty is to buy an endowment policy to protect mamma and us until we are grown up. Then protect your old age and above all, protect the money value of your time with a FEDERAL NON-CANCELLABLE policy.
One glimpse in our crowded hospitals and orphans' homes should convince any man of the value of protecting his income and his estate

A Public Service Publication

Few lines of Business have such a varied clientele as has the City Directory. It serves high and low, rich and poor, with equal impartiality and with profit to all.

It answers the questions What? and Who? which arise in daily Business life and fills a position occupied by no other publication under the sun. It is often used from its issue until it falls to pieces and seldom will you find one entirely discarded while its leaves cling together. A publication which is used so universally and whose life is so long, must appeal to every shrewd business man as a most desirable advertising medium. . .
